About

J. Austin is the founder and CEO of AhanaGold.com (<https://www.ahanagold.com>), an essential oil and hand balm company. She started Be Hear Now Inc, building the mobile video app, Idolapp.com (<https://idolapp.com/>), around mindfulness, yoga, and meditation. Jenifer taught Ahana Mindfulness Yoga at the TED 2019 Conference. She is also the co-Founder of Video.io (<https://video.io>), a consumer mobile video app start up aiming to speed up mobile app handling of video. She completed the Stanford Business School Executive Program (SEP) after spending almost 14 years at Google, where she created and launched the Google Ocean Program, Underwater Street View in Google Maps, and Geo Crisis Response. She joined Google to work directly for its co-founders after going on leave from her PhD program in the Neurosciences at Stanford; she graduated with a Masters, there, publishing her work studying neuronal connectivity involved in learning and memory. She is a member of the Explorers Club.

Jenifer Austin (<http://goo.gl/SteqKM>) founded Google's Ocean Program, leading the team to build the best map of the ocean in a consumer product, including in Google Maps and Google Earth, working with many partners like NOAA, the US Navy, Scripps Institute of Oceanography, MBARI, Columbia University, SOI and GEBCO. Learn More: Google Ocean Youtube playlist (<http://goo.gl/9eWdyn>). Jenifer partnered with Catlin Seaview Survey to launch Underwater Street View in Google Maps (<http://maps.google.com/ocean>), now up to over 50 locations, with a media reach of 85 billion, showcasing the Heron Island sea turtle in the Great Barrier Reef UNESCO World Heritage Site to Mexico whale sharks and the Larvrotto Marine Reserve off Monaco in partnership with the Prince Albert II Foundation. This project made the front cover and had a 6 page article in the 2015 TIME special edition: 100 New Scientific Discoveries (<http://goo.gl/UTIBRH>) and was in the April 14, 2014 newstand edition, The Last Coral Reefs: A new survey is documenting the rain forests of the ocean—before they're gone (<http://time.com/48001/the-last-coral-reefs/>). She also launched the first time ever waterfront Street View collection of the San Francisco shoreline collected in partnership with Marine Advanced Research's WAM-V® USV catamaran robot (http://wam-v.com/wamv_trekker.html). She recently co-hosted the Ocean Agenda Maritime Domain Awareness Workshop (<http://goo.gl/Kyf6Uy>) with the President of Iceland and the US Coast Guard. The Google Ocean Program was awarded the 2012 Wildaid Leadership and the 2012 Blue Frontier Peter Benchley Excellence in Exploration awards. Jenifer previously served on the Sylvia Earle's Mission Blue foundation, the Blue Ocean Film Festival advisory board and on the TSCOM subcommittee of the General Bathymetric Chart of the Oceans group of the IHO/IOC-UNESCO. She spoke at Google I/O (<http://goo.gl/4dTYhO>) and at the United Nations (<http://goo.gl/OEjBjm>).
